Marion Road and Cross Road Level Crossing Removals

Works update and intersection upgrades

We're removing congested tram level crossings to make your journey safer and more reliable

The Australian and South Australian governments have jointly (50:50) funded $400 million to remove the level crossings where the Glenelg tram line crosses Marion Road and Cross Road, Plympton. These works form part of the Tram Grade Separation Projects.

What's happening

Works to locate services and move power, gas, telecommunications and water infrastructure in the project area are ongoing.

We will shortly begin intersection upgrade works:

- Marion Road and Anzac Highway intersection – from early April 2025
- Marion Road and Cross Road intersection – from late April, weather permitting.

These works will continue until mid-2025 when major construction begins.

How this affects you

To reduce traffic and tram disruptions, works will occur during the day and night. Please see map overleaf to view the location of survey, service relocations and intersection works.

Upcoming changes to access and traffic conditions

As part of the Marion Road and Anzac Highway intersection upgrade, the left-turn movement into Lincoln Avenue from Anzac Highway will be permanently removed from late June 2025. This change is required to accommodate the two new dedicated signalised left-turn lanes from Anzac Highway onto Marion Road, to improve traffic flow, efficiency and safety.

The intersections of Marion Road and Anzac Highway and Marion Road and Cross Road will remain open to traffic during these works.

To keep everyone safe, speed and lane restrictions will be in place as required. There will be some temporary access restrictions on local roads during working hours (day and night), including roads adjacent the tram corridor. Please follow traffic management and onsite signage. Outside of working hours, traffic will be reopened wherever possible.

Access to properties will stay open during the works wherever possible. If there is a need for short-term property access restrictions, advance notice will be provided.

Night works

Advanced notice will also be provided to properties immediate the work area if works are required at night. To stay up to date with night works directly near your property via email updates, please contact the project team via email on info@TGSPAlliance.com.au or call 1300 916 976.

Some disturbances can be expected such as noise, dust and vibration caused by digging, installation of new services, removal of existing asphalt and placement of new asphalt. However, we will minimise disturbances as much as practically possible.

Tram and Bus Stop access

Tram and Bus Stop access will stay open. Tram services will not be disrupted by these works.

Service disruptions and outages

We expect some short-term water supply disruptions for up to one day at a time while works are underway to install new water mains within the project area. SA Water (phone: 1300 729 283) will contact directly affected properties ahead of time to provide advance notice of disruptions.

Some minor outages are required within the project area to complete these works. Service authorities, including SA Power Networks, APA Gas and telecommunication service providers will directly notify affected properties in advance.
